ENVIRONMENT and POLITICS

Transforming the results from environmental research into political action is a key challenge. The Club of Rome - European Support Centre in Vienna is partner in an EU-funded project which is coordinated by UNEP and aims at a targeted and efficient communication of scientific knowledge to politicians.

We are looking for a candidate with a background in environmental or natural sciences and experience in the field of political science. Or vice versa.

The task includes the preparation of "Policy Briefs" and requires fast understanding of research results and knowledge of the target group. Themes of the Policy Briefs include climate change, biodiversity, marine environment, earth observation, natural resources management, land and urban management, natural hazards, environmental technologies, assessment of tools for sustainable development, environment and health.

The status of employment is part time (ca 50%), employment would start in September 2010.

"The Club of Rome - European Support Centre" is the regional centre of the Club of Rome for Europe. It is coordinating activities within a network of National Associations of the Club of Rome and is a partner in research projects.

Applicants are invited to mail their applications electronically to „agenda@clubofrome.at“. Please enclose a CV with photo, scans of certificates, and information about publications or earlier work results.
